

How to Get Involved

To become a member of CSforALL, first review the Membership Guidelines. If you meet the membership criteria, complete this form.¹ We will be reviewing applications and approving new members during the first week of every month. You will hear from us shortly thereafter!

Benefits of Membership

CSforALL members will benefit primarily through the increased visibility of their work to states, districts, schools, and other implementing partners, as well as funders and policy makers. Additionally, CSforALL sees its role as an initiator of community, and members may be invited to participate or share events where they are the target community/audience. As CSforALL evolves and grows under the guidance of the Steering Committee, there may be other benefits.

Responsibilities of Members

Members will be asked to:

- Create and maintain a CSforALL landing page or resource collection on their website², or provide a link to as CS Education related page in their domain.
- Provide CSforALL with a logo and URL to display on the CSforALL site
- Respond to annual requests from CSforALL for data or reporting of activities/commitments regarding CS education activities (e.g., number of teachers trained, schools impacted, student numbers and demographics, etc.)

¹ If your membership is approved, the information you provided for the required fields will be used to create your public membership profile on the CSforAll site. Please do not include any private or confidential information.

² If a member's content is explicitly focused on CS education, the member's primary home page may be used as the CSforAll landing page.
